The members and fans of the athletic teams at Northern Kentucky University (NKU) are commonly referred to as “Norse,” and we are proud to have Victor E. Viking (to the right) as our mascot.

To show our pride as members of the “Norse Nation,” we often like to throw our “Norse Up” (see below) when we’re at an NKU game, school event, or even when traveling to show off our school spirit!

Members of NKU’s international student community are encouraged to “Norse Up” while abroad, at home, or at NKU events, and tag it with #GlobalNorse so we can enjoy your many adventures with you, and celebrate our school spirit together!
